

NAVIGATING AN OPEN ACCESS WORLD

AVOIDING PUBLISHING IN PREDATORY JOURNALS

MONDAY, OCTOBER 9, 2017
Doheny Memorial Library, Room 240
12:00 noon (lunch provided)

Please join us for NAVIGATING AN OPEN ACCESS WORLD: AVOIDING PUBLISHING IN PREDATORY JOURNALS, a lively session on the important topic of open access. JEFFREY BEALL, the Scholarly Initiatives Librarian from the University of Colorado, Denver, will give the keynote presentation on the shifting landscape of open access publishing and the threat of predatory publishers.

This keynote will be followed by a QUESTION & ANSWER SESSION with respondents JENNIFER CHAN (UCLA Scholarly Communications Librarian) and GISELE RAGUSA (USC Viterbi School of Engineering Professor), offering alternative perspectives to open access publishing. To reserve your seat, RSVP at bit.ly/2jqY72c. For more information, go to libguides.usc.edu/openaccess.
