

Development of Effective Communication between LAUC and the University

Effective communication between LAUC and the University is essential for fulfilling the University's mission of teaching, research, public service, and patient care. It is also essential so that LAUC may fulfill its shared governance responsibilities to advise the University on matters concerning the Libraries and professional librarians.

Therefore, both LAUC and the University shall ensure that effective communication be developed and implemented through available and appropriate channels.

Additionally, in accordance with LAUC's advisory role, the University shall invite LAUC to appoint members to all appropriate University administrative committees, groups, and other advisory bodies, consistent with LAUC's responsibilities as outlined in its Bylaws and APM - 360 Appendix B.
